GUILFORD COLLEGE BRANCH LIBRARY IS CLOSED

GREENSBORO, NC (August 23, 2004) – The Guilford College Branch of the Greensboro Public Library permanently closed yesterday so that library staff could begin moving books and materials to the new Kathleen Clay Edwards Family Branch Library.

The last day of service at the Guilford College Branch Library was Sunday, August 22. Customers who checked out books from the Guilford College Branch may return the books to any Greensboro Public Library branch location. Customers who placed holds on books or materials at the Guilford College Branch may pick up their materials at the Benjamin Branch Library when they receive notification that the items are available.

Library staff will spend the next few weeks preparing for the September 10 grand opening of the Kathleen Clay Branch Library, 1420 Price Park Road, next to Jefferson Elementary School.

For more information, visit the Library's Web site at www.greensborolibrary.org.

The City of Greensboro works in partnership with the community to build an increased quality of life for all residents by fostering an environment where inclusion, diversity, and trust are valued.
